Three independently micro-adjustable vertical pins are coupled with corresponding individually adjustable pointers enabling the archer to pick their "zero'd" pin positions and continue to know the yardages to each, no matter what the dial is adjusted to. Perfect for the archer that likes the single up pin sight picture, but doesn't like the limitation of a single aiming point.

The TRIPLE STACK lets you set the gaps for all three pins and once set to match, the adjustable pointers provide constant yardage updates as the dial is turned.

ARROW REST

INFINITY
ARROW REST

LONG & SHORT ARM
OPTION AVAILABLE

The SWAP is the FIRST micro-adjustable, target arrow rest on the market to include a quick detach feature. Utilizing all of the features you loved about the Edge and Infinity, The SWAP technology gives the archer the ability to install, tune, remove, and re-attach the rest all while maintaining perfect accuracy and repeatability. Being able to remove the rest, or easily swap between different bodies provides a number of highly favorable opportunities that, until now, have never been possible. While impossible to list all of its applications, the list below offers a quick look at some of the truly revolutionary opportunities the SWAP provides.

SAFER TRAVEL – The SWAP can be easily removed and stored in the included hard case.

DIFFERENT ARROWS OUT OF SAME BOW – Once the bar is installed you can swap seamlessly between different Edge/Infinity bodies, each set up and tuned for a specific arrow size.

EXPERIMENT WITH DIFFERENT TUNING – After installing and tuning one Edge/Infinity body, remove it and replace with another body to experiment with different tunes. You can now experiment with blade angles/thicknesses, rest locations, and arrow configurations, without ever losing that original tune.

PIECE OF MIND – Blades break, they wear out, bows get knocked over, people fall down. Tune two Edge/Infinity bodies identically and always have a backup that can be easily swapped in, eliminating any down time or missed targets.

The SWAP can be order as a single rest, or as a package with one bar and two bodies. Its available in right or left handed and comes with your choice of either a short or long mounting bar.

MICRO RESTS

THE EDGE

It's always been a wonder to us why people put so little emphasis on rest micro adjustability, when the arrow rest is one of the most critical components to accurate shooting.

To start, the Edge features a no-clamp vertical and horizontal micro-adjust meaning easy adjustment with a single screw. Fine-tuning an arrowrest to perfection has never been easier. Maybe one of the most amazing features is the micro-adjustable blade angle, a simple turn of a click screw and you can click your blade angle to the ultimate position. To further aid accuracy and repeatability The Edge is able to be locked down to guarantee zero bearing or bushing play. To ensure repeatability it also offers a self-centering blade, designed to make blade replacement easy and exact. Each piece of the Edge is designed to promote the highest level of accuracy and ensure that your arrows will find the spot with scary consistency – “Want a step up on your competition? Get the Edge!”

FEATURES

- Self Locking Horizontal Micro Adjust
- Micro-Click Adjustable Blade Angle

The unique design of the KEETON release seamlessly blends two styles of releases into one. A wrist strap, index trigger style at heart, the integrated grip allows the archers to draw and shoot using more than just the shoulder to handle the weight. When the release length is adjusted properly, the archer can distribute the weight evenly between the grip, wrist, arm and shoulder. At full draw the grip pivots, quickly aligning the finger with the trigger. Decreased fatigue and better stability provide better accuracy and more enjoyable shooting.
