Welwaze Medical, Inc. appoints new Chief Executive Officer

Welwaze is pleased to announce the appointment of Carlos García Iragorri as its new CEO and Board Member. Carlos, previously a former member of the Advisory Board, assumes these leadership positions effective immediately.

“The Board and I are confident that Carlos is the right person to build on this momentum. He is a seasoned leader with vast experience in the healthcare industry. He operates efficiently at scale and delivers value to shareholders. We feel that with his operational and strategic skills, he will not just take our company further but that he also represents, lives, and breathes our mission and values. We are very blessed to have him as our CEO.” said Alex J. Ness, Executive Chairman of Welwaze.

“I am honored to be given the charge to lead Welwaze in its journey to becoming a leading company in the field of medical devices. With its mission to bring awareness towards women’s health, I feel that Welwaze is very well positioned to capture a market looking for preventive-oriented solutions in the space of women wellness,” said Carlos.

Carlos has worked at senior level roles in the healthcare industry for over 30 years. He has MBA degrees in International Business (Cornell University) and Finance (KUL) and a bachelor’s degree in Industrial Engineering. Carlos successfully led profitable business growth, bringing access to medicines and successful patient-oriented solutions across multiple geographical areas in the world. He is an inspiring leader whose success was built on his ability to develop trusting relationships with a multitude of stakeholders. He is a current board member of the Uniting for Health Innovation (UfHI) and has served as President of Novartis Pharmaceuticals for the Latin America/Canada Region and also President of Novartis Pharmaceuticals in Asia-Pacific, Africa, and the Middle East. He was also Area Director for Central and Eastern Europe for Eli Lilly & Co.
