THE KENITORIAL 1931

VOLUME EIGHT
KENMORE HIGH SCHOOL
KENMORE, NEW YORK

FOREWORD

During the two thousand years since his death, the great Vergil, whom masters after him have chosen as their guide, has lived for us through the power of his genius. His is the age to which we trace the birth of philosophy, oratory, literature, and art. Even today, wondering and marveling, our minds trace back through centuries to the beauty of the age of Vergil. . . . During the school year of 1930-1931 we have celebrated the great master's birthday, and through this event we have once again discovered the real value of the Classical Age. It is for this reason that we have chosen the Classical Era as the theme of our year-book with the hope that students and teachers alike will feel added interest in the subject.

DEDICATION

During the past school year we, as well as hundreds of others throughout the world, have been celebrating the Bimillenium of Publius Vergilius Maro, one of the greatest poets of the world. His fame, as has been proved through centuries of harsh criticism, is of invincible nature. This is true not only of his reputation as a poet, but even more of his fame as one who understood and sympathized with his fellow men. His name and the word "Classics" stand together inseparable. Our debt to him is far beyond payment; yet just as the widow proudly gave her mite, we, in similar spirit, dedicate this issue of "The Kenitorial," in which we have tried to carry out a classical theme, to his immortal name.

FRANK C. DENSBERGER, Ph.B., M.A.

At the head of Kenmore's school system stands a man whom we know, not only as the superintendent of our schools and as a teacher, but as our advisor and counsellor as well. This man is Superintendent Frank C. Densberger who came to us sixteen years ago.

At the time when Mr. Densberger first became the principal figure in Kenmore's modest educational system, the facilities consisted of but one building, in which fourteen teachers amply met the students' needs. But in the sixteen years that have elapsed, the growth of our school system under Superintendent Densberger's guidance, has been as phenomenal as that of the village. We now have seven excellent buildings and two hundred and five teachers, forming a most complex unit. Only a man of exceptional ability could direct this rapid development as Mr. Densberger has done.

The Greek gods around whom we are writing this year-book have bequeathed to us a heritage of ideals and conduct that is undying. Just so will the high ideals on which our school system is founded prove that they too are imperishable.

ROY G. FREEMAN, A.B., M.A.

We are indeed fortunate to have as the principal of our school a man with good executive abilities and kindly spirit. Not only in our scholastic endeavors, but also in our athletic and social activities, "Doc" has been our guide and friend.

His foresight and planning have resulted in many additions to the curriculum of our high school, as well as the enlargement of departments formerly organized. It is certain that his wise administration has helped Kenmore High School achieve a prominent position in the educational system of New York State.

In spite of increasing administrative duties, Principal Freeman has remained interested in the problems which our activities present. To each of us he is "Doc," a friend, a teacher, and a counsellor.

RAYMOND S. FRAZIER, B.S.

Vice-Principal Raymond S. Frazier has completed seven years of efficient leadership as head of the Commercial Department and as instructor of economics.

As an administrator, Mr. Frazier has real power. He has met the growing needs of his section of education, and today we have one of the best organized and equipped Commercial Departments in the State.

Mr. Frazier has also served as the business advisor of "The Kenitorial" and as treasurer of all school funds. Because of his keen business ability, "The Kenitorial" always closes the year with a surplus fund.

CARL W. BAISCH, B.S., M.A.

Vice-Principal Carl W. Baisch, who has rounded out seven years as instructor of chemistry and head of the Science Department of Kenmore High School, is to be highly congratulated upon his achievements.

Mr. Baisch is a partisan of the educational idea which stands for the combined development of the mental and physical ability of the pupil, and this year as in previous years, he has coached a very successful football team.

Mr. Baisch, who is one of the most popular members of the faculty, has the admiration and respect of every member of the student body.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

We wish the Kenmore Board of Education to know that their efforts are neither unobserved nor unappreciated by those whose interests they are advancing. By devoting this page to them, we express our gratitude in a small way, and give opportunity to each student of Kenmore High School to become more familiar with the faces of those who give so liberally of their time and thought for our benefit.

"Labores" of the Senior Class

What fun we had raising money for the Washington trip! First, there was the Harvest Carnival. No one could forget that, especially those on the decorating committee who were on their knees practically all the afternoon pinning strips of paper to the strings used in beautifying the cafeteria. Then we mustn't overlook that vaudeville show which did so much to make the evening a success. It's really surprising what good Indians our Senior boys make.

This was by no means the end of our activities, for soon came magazine and Sal-O-Well campaigns. Two quite different articles, we assure you.

We won't forget either Murray Wilkinson's pleading for money not yet turned in. Between the benefit show at the Kenmore Theatre and the Senior play, it seemed as if we were never rid of tickets. There were always some to be sold. "Tickets" became our password during the early months of the year.

Spring finally came and with it Washington. To the lucky ones of us who went, it was all we could expect and more! Days on the go from morning 'til night; sights overaweing us; history revealing itself before our eyes; fun aboard ship. What memories to store in our minds for future years!

Celebrities come under the next heading. There are so many representing every phase of school life that it will be impossible to name them all. First, however, come those of high scholastic standing. Of the thirty-five honor students, Jane Quigley, Betty Weller, and Elizabeth Katzmayer managed to come to the front and received the honors of being the highest in this year's class. "Bob" McEwen achieved first place among the boys.

A rising vote of thanks is given to the Rostrum staffs who worked hard in providing bits of school news for our weekly enjoyment.

What's this? Dan Steible and Marge Hauser arguing? Nothing serious we hope; probably just force of habit as a result of their hard work on the debate team. Speaking of debate, it may be of interest to know that it was through the efforts of our class that we entered the National Debating Society.

Last, but by no means least, come the pages turned over entirely to sports. Both football and swimming teams are to be congratulated upon having the most successful season known in this school. We surely are proud of them. Then that basketball team! Who can forget that? Our boys fought so hard and had so few defeats that it seems a shame to give them only this passing notice. However, they know how much we appreciate all that they have done.

We'll never forget those years of work and play alike nor our friends, the teachers, always ready to help us when we were slipping. K. H. S. is now our Alma Mater. The first volume of our life has been closed. We have the second in our hand but have not yet opened it. The future is before us—what we make of it depends upon ourselves.

Open Gates

Thy gates are closing now, and we Look back with longing eyes Over thy great broad highway where Our field of honor lies.

Thy gates are closing on us now, But other gates we see. Through them a pathway leads along Into eternity.

We cannot see the road it takes, If it be steep or long, But we must tread it strong in heart, And on our lips a song.

We know that though our path be dark, 'Twill lead through light to day.
The lamp our Alma Mater lights
Will guide us all the way.

A Message from the Juniors

With the passing of another Senior Class, Kenmore High School will lose a group of students who, because of their sincere efforts, have made their Alma Mater much better for the four years spent under her guidance.

We find in this group exceptional leaders in the various activities associated with our school. We feel especially proud of the high scholastic record that the Class of 1931 has attained. We are also indebted to the members of this class who have striven to put the name of Kenmore High School in an enviable position in the realm of sports.

The Junior Class takes this opportunity to congratulate the members of the Class of 1931 upon finishing their first step toward that goal for which we are all striving—each to be a citizen of whom his country may be proud. We assure them that they have the good wishes of the Class of 1932.

LLOYD D. CLARK
Junior Class President

"Commentaries" of the Sophomore Class

The Sophomore class of 1930-31 includes a very large group of students who have become part of various school organizations, and in their classes have shown that they have ability along different lines. The English classes contain several with literary talent, for several times when a Sophomore article was wanted for the Rostrum, the competition proved very strong. The original short stories written by the members of all divisions would do credit to a recognized author. Plays presented on the stage by some of the members of the Sophomore class have been acted as if the players were the characters in reality.

The school band includes a number of Sophomores who have proved a great addition to it. Some of the girls and boys have become leaders in several fields of school activities.

In the athletic field honors go to several of our Sophomore boys for the feats in the swimming meets and basketball games. They have fought hard for the school and have proved themselves good losers as well as good winners. In scholarship, also, many have distinguished themselves.

If the activities of this year's Sophomores are any indication of what is to come, the Juniors and Seniors of the next two years will become well known.

Junior High School

The Junior High School is completing another successful year. Founded seven years ago it has grown to over four times its original size. But in spite of this growth the paramount thought in the minds of the administration and faculty has been the welfare of the individual child. Success in scholastic attainment is important, but of far greater importance is the development of character and ability to make the necessary adjustments to life's problems. May these two factors always occupy first place in our school program.

With the Alumni

The Annual Banquet

The annual alumni banquet and business meeting, held at the High School Cafeteria on Thursday evening, June 19, 1930, was the most elaborate affair of its kind ever given by the Alumni Association. The graduating class was invited as guests of the alumni and, partly as a result of this invitation and partly as a result of aggressive publicity, the largest crowd in alumni banquet history attended the event. One hundred twenty-five people were present, more than three times the number at the same event the previous year.

Carlton K. Matson, Editor of the Buffalo Times, was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Matson drew from his background of experience in civic, commercial, educational, and journalistic fields to deliver a talk which met with unanimous and enthusiastic approval. Frank C. Moore, acting as master of ceremonies, had little difficulty in keeping everybody happy during the course of the evening. Miss Gladys Evans was heard in a group of readings; the University of Buffalo Male Quartet rendered several popular numbers; Harriet Crosby delighted the diners with three soprano solos; Ernest McLaren, accompanied by Earl Ruckman, gave a few snappy numbers on his fiddle; and the group singing was conducted by none other than "Pop" Arnold.

The following officers were elected for the year 1930-31: Leonard Hershiser, '23, President; Harriet Crosby, '25, Vice-President; Mary Budik, '29, Secretary; Stephen Austin, '28, Treasurer.

The Annual Play

"Set a Thief," a mystery melodrama, was presented by the Alumni Association in the High School Auditorium Friday evening, November 21, 1930, under the direction of Miss Gladys Evans.

Alice Lazelle, Harriet Crosby, Arja Williams, William Carey, Robert Martin, Harold Clark, Cecilia Wildey, William Baldwin, Marion Meyer, Mary Budik, and Laurence Flynn had parts in the play. While the audience was not so large as that attracted to the play in previous years, it was considered satisfactory in view of several other important events occurring in Kenmore on the same evening.

A feature of the play was the distribution of "extras," screaming the story of the murder and bond robbery, between the first and second acts. The papers were supplied through the courtesy of the Buffalo Times.

The Holiday Ball

The second annual holiday ball was held in the Colonial Ballroom of the Twentieth Century Club Saturday evening, December 27, 1930. Promoted under the slogan, "The most colorful affair of the season," the ball was a social, as well as a financial success.

Music was furnished by the Century Orchestra, consisting of ten men.

It is hoped to make the holiday ball an event looked forward to by alumni as the outstanding social affair of the holiday season. Although only two of these dances have been given, they have been of such character as to go far toward building up the desired tradition.

Plans for the Future

The annual alumni banquet this June will be the tenth anniversary of the organization of Kenmore High School Alumni Association. While it has not been definitely decided, it is expected that the graduating class of 1931 will be invited as guests of the association. This practice, let it be known, constitutes a serious drain on the association's treasury. The officers believe, however, that only in this way can the association create the interest and enthusiasm necessary to give it the strength to represent properly the fine school of which its members are alumni.

Margarete Mark

The editors and staff of the 1931 Kenitorial have worked very earnestly to make this annual one of which the faculty and students of Kenmore High School can be justly proud.

We have endeavored to include within its covers the true Kenmore spirit—a spirit of progress and of success, and one also of respect for traditions as evidenced in the classical theme.

It is with strict impartiality that we have prepared the various departments of this book, and it is our sincere hope that everyone will receive as much pleasure through reading it as we have in preparing it.

The Art Department, the Commercial Department, and the English Department have been in charge of the art work, the finances, and the literary contributions respectively. Miss Jeannette Underwood has been art advisor, R. S. Frazier has been financial advisor, and Mrs. Gertrude Chittenden, assisted by Miss Esther Hepinstall and Miss Elizabeth Chittenden, has been general and literary advisor. We thank them for their generous and helpful cooperation.

The Honor Club

The second year of the Honor Club has seen an increase of thirteen members over the number of last year. To qualify, a student must earn an average of at least eighty-five per cent for the four years in high school. The organization is non-secret and has no officers. This year's graduating class is very happy to honor thirty-five of its members with membership in this club.

Band

The band, resplendent in blue uniforms, has been a feature of the athletic contests of the past year. Besides playing at football and basketball games, the band provided music at the sectional basketball tournament in the Elmwood Music Hall. Mr. Moore and his assistant, Mr. Barrett, deserve great credit for developing this excellent organization.

If a musical director takes over all musical activities, it is expected that the scope of band work will be extended even further.

The Rostrum

It has been the purpose of the 1930-31 Rostrum editors and their staffs to portray, with as much accuracy as possible, the activities of the student body as a whole, of the various organizations, and of the alumni. The members of Alpha Phi Lambda have furnished some splendid literary material in addition to the literary editors' contributions.

The sports reporters have recorded faithfully the excellent basketball games as well as the various other sports. The sports news has been appearing on the regular sport page of the Kenmore Record which still prints the Rostrum. The year has been unusually successful.

Basketball Season

In the past few years under Coach "Andy" Schultz Kenmore High School's basketball stars have been unusually successful in winning laurels for the Blue and White. This season has been no exception to that rule. The team played a total of fifteen games and won thirteen, the defeats having been met at the hands of a worthy foe, Niagara Falls. Unsuccessful in the playoff, Kenmore lost the R. P. I. championship for the second time in nine years.

The loss of Bill Jackson early in the season was unfortunate as the loss of a star forward would be to any team.

The outcome of this season's efforts brought to the fore the sportsmanlike qualities of the boys. Kenmore had been winning for several years, but when a taste of bad luck came, they carried themselves as well in defeat as in victory.

The boys scored a total of three hundred and sixty-three points against their opponents' two hundred and fifty-five. High scorers of the season were John Jeffrey with eighty-three points, an average of about six points a game; Wesley Snyder totalling sixty-six points, an average of about five points a game. These men were closely followed by William Rutherford, Clayton Skinner, and William Powell. Jackson played in four games and scored thirty-seven points.

Playing one of the hardest football seasons in the history of Kenmore High School, the eleven under the able direction of Coach Baisch, bucked, ran, and passed their way to six victories and only two defeats. A strong Tonawanda team took advantage of a midseason slump and defeated Kenmore, 13-0. The reaction from this defeat served to tune up the running of the team to a high pitch and carried them to victories over two strong Buffalo schools, Nichols and Hutchinson. Later they went down fighting before the onslaught of a veteran Lafayette team, 13-0. These two defeats were games that no team should be ashamed of for they were a fine example of Kenmore's spirit and fight and of the excellent football training Coach Baisch had given his warriors.

Outscoring opponents by 158 points, Kenmore had a most successful season. The last game of the season was a charity benefit game between the Alumni players and the Varsity eleven. The teams were about evenly matched, but under the influence of a bleak, cold day neither eleven could play well enough to score.

Batterson, a guard, and Jackson, an end, were the co-captains. Snyder was with us part of the time, but because of Buffalo's age limit for football players, wasn't allowed to play in the Hutchinson and Lafayette games. Wesling was injured in the Lancaster game and was unable to play during the remainder of the season. Powell, McEwen, and Skinner did their part in the backfield to build up the good record that was made by the team, while Vathy, Harris, Stanley, and Clark kept them fighting to hold their places. On the line were the veterans, Swartz, Martin, George, Little, and Basore, with a newcomer, Stubbs.

Tonawanda 1st Kenmore 2nd North Tonawanda 3rd Lockport 4th Kenmore's Swimming Team, winning three meets and losing six, gave the spectators one of the most thrilling seasons that Kenmore has ever enjoyed through this sport. Each meet, whether won or lost, was close. In practically every meet Swartz took first place in the 200-yard free style, Shryer was first in the medley, and the relay team won. In the qualifying meet on March 7, 1931, Densberger and Snyder placed in the 50-yard free style with Densberger taking third in the finals; Densberger also qualified in the 100-yard back and won the final; Martin qualified and took second in the finals, in the 100-yard breast stroke; Shryer won both the qualifying heat and the final in the medley; Swartz placed in the qualifying heat and took third in the final for the 200-yard free style and the relay team took second place.

Track and Relay

Kenmore started track on April 20 with a veteran team and an exceptional group of new aspirants.

The first meet was on May 9 at Alfred and Kenmore placed third in the 100-yd. dash and third in the javelin throw. A week later at Nichols, the meet was decided in the last event, Nichols winning with 60½ points, Kenmore with 8½ and Lancaster with 6.

May 16 was the semi-final meet of Western New York track teams. Dunkirk, with 37 points, won; Salamanca had 12; Kenmore, 11; Hamburg, 11; East Aurora, 7½; the remaining points were scattered among five other teams. The winners of the various events went to the state finals in which Kenmore tied for third place.

On June 7, at the Girls' and Boys' County Track Meet held at Kenmore, Kenmore took first place in the Girls' and Boys' divisions. The points gained by Kenmore were 78; East Aurora, 73; Hamburg, 71.

The relay team, not satisfied with winning the Western New York preliminary title, traveled to Syracuse and won third place in the All-State Meet.

With one veteran returning to the squad, the Kenmore Tennis Team opened its season of conquest. This marks the second year of Kenmore's participation in tennis competition.

The team is to be congratulated on its record. In its infancy to win two out of four meets is a record of which it can be proud.

With the return of experienced players next year, a season filled with the spoils of success is anticipated.

One of the outstanding features of the season was the advancement of the team to the Quaker State Finals Championship at Chautauqua, after winning the meet held in Kenmore.

M. Piatak, C. Wirth, W. Miller, S. Miller

Introducing a new sport into Kenmore High School, the Golf Squad last season played three matches, and although they were not successful enough to win, the scores were very close. As the boys played against schools in which this game is an organized sport, they met real competition each time. Slated on their list were Niagara Falls, East Aurora, and Lancaster.

Baseball

Ushering in Kenmore's second year of baseball, Coach Henry Nadin developed a team that won three games and secured several close scores. Although under the handicaps that always attend a new sport, the boys on the team were remarkably successful. Because several of the team members participated in other sports besides baseball, great difficulty was encountered in putting the team into condition. Playing again in the R.P.I. League, Kenmore has found the keenest competition in its two years of participation.

The home team was composed of many who were on the original team the first year. There were George, McEwen, Wood, Stirling, Albright, and Powell who aided the team materially through their previous experience.

Since the 1930 season, new rules have been adopted for this sport within the school with the result that the team is working under better conditions. Coach Nadin forecasts a most successful season. Chief among the regulations is the rule that candidates for baseball confine themselves to one sport. Several last year's team members will be back to play and there are many promising candidates yet to be developed. First rank men of the 1930 season were Albright, George, Holbrook, McEwen, Piatak, Powell, Stirling, Wood, Martin, Elithorne, Little, and Rutherford. These men were given keen competition for their positions by the reserve team.

Cheer Leaders

Who are the three lively, white-clad girls pictured above who lead cheers in perfect time at assemblies? The answer is, of course, Peggy Cushing, Ruth Woodruff, and Owena Mae Swachamer.

Who is the peppy fellow below between the loud speakers who secures such splendid support from the crowd? That is Harry Smith.

These enthusiastic cheerleaders have helped our teams carry the name of Kenmore to stellar heights. By standing for the indomitable spirit and the clean sportsmanship for which Kenmore is noted, they have been a factor which has counted in the successful campaigns of our teams.

Senior Girls' Basketball

The Senior and Junior girls who have become proud possessors of the Varsity "K" this year have every cause to delight in a successful season, although they were defeated in the annual Alumni game. They did rout the Faculty by the overwhelming score of 28-0, despite the omnipresent awe in the presence of their teachers.

Tennis

The tennis tournaments were played off this year in a new and improved manner. Instead of one tournament for the entire school, three distinct tournaments were arranged in the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior years. The winners of the respective tournaments were Ruth Woodruff, Alice Wiser, and Jane Quigley.

First Row: J. Guthrie, J. Anson, I. Ferris, W. Hodgson, J. Irwin, G. Holden Second Row: R. Lorse, E. Raines, H. Perkins, P. Guthrie, M. Kirby, O. Swachamer Third Row: E. Loeffler, E. DuGray, M. Lowes, N. Tutton, M. Kallas

Archery

Archery was also another popular feminine sport this year. It has been necessary to organize two classes, which meet alternately on Monday and Friday nights. The girls who have had a year's experience were separated into an advance group, shooting for individual scores. The newcomers were divided into teams and their scores were kept collectively. The outstanding shooters of this year were Wilda Hodgson, Janet Irwin, Grace Holden, Isabelle Ferris, and Margery Klosse.

First Row: R. Woodruff, J. Colby, R. Colley, J. Meyers Second Row: O. Van Knapp, D. Chittley, A. Weiser

Skating

The annual skating meet was held in February of this year, and a ninth grade dark horse in the form of Jane Colby skated away with first class honors. The only requirement necessary for entrance in the meet was that a girl must participate in at least three out of the five scheduled events.

The other girls placing in the meet were Ruth Woodruff, Ruby Colley, and June Meyers.

First Row: M. Powell, R. Wagner, M. Guess, M. McKechnie Second Row: C. Gudgel, R. Sampson, G. Glover, C. Zimmer, Captains

Baseball

Seventy-eight girls responded to the call of spring practice, which was issued in March of this year by Miss Kauffman. As evidenced by the number of girls who reported, baseball is on its way to a second successful season at Kenmore.

The Senior captains are Powell and Wagner; the Junior captains are Zimmer and Mc-Kechnie; the Sophomore captains are Sampson and Glover; the Freshmen captains are Gudgel and Guess.

In Water: G. Chilman, M. Woodward, B. Brown, I. Dilts, V. Murray, J. Irwin First Row: E. McBay, G. Holden, M. Decker, F. Smith, J. Titus, P. Cushing, K. Smith, H. Harper, F. Baylitts Second Row: G. Cuthberson, O. Tarios, R. Samcoe, M. Towne, J. Guthrie, R. Colley

Swimming

Swimming for girls has received an added impetus this year because of the strength tests, exempting some girls from gymnasium. Friday has been set aside as "fish day," and the girls just dive right in!

A series of tests has also been arranged for the mermaids, the beginners receiving a red star and the more advanced group a blue star; the swimmers conquering all obstacles receive a "K."

Track

Although some of the twelve girls who participated in the Erie County Track Meet, held June 7, 1930, have left school, and it is impossible to secure their picture, it is with a great deal of pleasure that we print the record of their accomplishments.

Virginia Bowers who was outstanding in track work during her high school career, won first place in the fifty-yard dash, second in the broad jump, and fourth in the high jump.

The relay team, composed of Victoria Arnold, Dorothy Stains, Dorothy Cummings, and Virginia Bowers proved their ability by winning first place in their event.

In final statement of individual scores, Virginia Bowers won first place in the meet with eight and one-half points Melva Oremus second with five points, and Henrietta Snook third with three points.

The First Public Speaking Contest

Presented By

KENMORE SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

At the beginning of the first semester, Miss Evans, teacher of oral English, aroused in her pupils an interest in public speaking. As this interest grew, it was decided that there be a contest in the middle of the year. Miss Evans' plan was carried out, resulting in a public speaking contest held in the high school auditorium, February 4, at eight o'clock in the evening.

The program was interestingly varied, consisting of humorous as well as dramatic numbers, all of which required much self-assurance, talent, and ability to forget the audience.

It was as follows:

JEAN FRASER "Hiawatha" Paul Wesling 'Michael Strogof" Henry W. Longfellow Jules Verne DONALD LILLEY "Tommy" Betty Bickerton "Seventeen" Rudyard Kipling Booth Tarkington "The Bishop's Candlesticks" Beata Koerbel Dan Steible "Gunga Din" Victor Hugo Rudyard Kipling HAROLD JANSON "The Murder of Captain Joseph White" "The Wedding" Mary Powell Daniel Webster From "Mary Cary"-Kate Boshen WINIFRED WILCOX "Dona Maria's Defiance" "The Highwayman" Eric Prior . From "In The Palace of The King" Alfred Noues Marion Crawford

The judges, Mrs. Ingersoll, Mr. Hamlin, and Mr. Aydelotte, awarded the first prizes of five dollars each to Betty Bickerton and Dan Steible; second prizes of two and a half dollars apiece to Beata Koerbel and Paul Wesling.

STATE SURVEY

The State Education Department opened its survey of Kenmore schools October 21, when a staff of physical instructors and health experts tested the students, reviewing health and medical work in the schools, and investigating the cafeteria system. Dr. Frederick Rand Rogers of Albany, Director of Health Education, was in charge.

The results of the physical fitness test were as follows: Ross Rogers, of the Senior boys, carried the honors with a score of 137, and Mary Powell, of the Senior girls, with 143. The highest scores of the Junior Class were obtained by Jack Honeywell, who reached the high mark of 154, and Helen Harper, who scored 135.

In the future, pupils will be grouped in the gym classes according to their physical fitness index.

Following the health survey, other officials from Albany in charge of academic work and business control surveyed their respective branches of the Kenmore school system.

Conata in Literis

According to the Greeks, Uranus (heaven) and Gaea (earth) were the first rulers of the universe, and the parents of the Cyclops, the giants, and the Titans, who symbolized thunder and lightning, the violence of the sea, and the uncontrolled forces of the universe. However, it was two of the Titans, Cronus and Rhea, who were the parents of six of the gods: Vesta, Ceres, Juno, Neptune, Pluto, and Jupiter. Cronus seemed to be an unnatural father, for he swallowed five of his children. But, in the case of the sixth, Rhea fooled him by putting a stone in the boy's clothes. Thus Jupiter escaped the terrible fate of his other brothers and sisters. When he grew up, he made Cronus drink a strong potion which restored his kin. The whole incident was caused by the jealousy of the father against his son, because he had heard the latter would deprive him of power. It was these stories that played such large parts in the lives of the ancient Greeks and Romans. Later different mythological ideas occurred in Europe and Asia.

In England stories were told of Arthur, an early king of Britain; today these are still related. It is not certain that Arthur lived at all; if he did, he was only a British chieftain, and his success against the Saxons was not great, but only appeared so under the paintings of the minstrels in the dark and early ages. The Hindu myths preserve characteristics of immensity and indefiniteness. Egyptian myths seem to be full of hideous and senseless details, whose use apparently was to show people why they must observe certain rites and ceremonies which the priests required of them, and to inspire them with fear of strange and horrible deities. Scandinavian stories are of strength and savage war, relieved by a peculiar rough humor and touches of pathos. The myths of the Middle Ages were full of romantic sentiment and insisted on the higher virtues of honor, justice, compassion, and courtesy.

We must not suppose that the age of myths and myth-making has altogether passed, for beliefs are still held by savages and those less educated in Russia, Japan, India, China, and Africa. In the United States the nursery tales are an example of myths that have been handed down from generation to generation. The spread of science and the records preserved by our newspapers together with the love of accuracy fostered by our historians tend to prevent the formation of fresh myths and to break down belief in the old ones.

Into the sunset, out of the dawn, Golden fingers an aeon long Stretch from the East into the West, And silver wings, that can stand the test Of wind and weather and power dives, Bear through the air a score of lives Depending on their speed and strength. Throughout the giant plane's great length A surge of power hums and roars; Past the window the slipstream pours. Past the fusilage, past the tail, Sent by propellers that never fail; Conquering mountains, conquering seas, Flying o'er cities, sailing by trees, Past well-known places and places not named; Triumphantly faithful, the free and untamed.

Hollow Life

I sometimes think that life is such a hollow thing; If I should die, what now seems so important, Would be done or else forgotten—
It would not matter.

We play as along life's path we travel, We pretend that what we do will really matter, We imagine that some men are great and others aren't— What does it matter?

We, even the most "imporant" of us, Are no more than children playing "living"; A hundred years later Will anything matter?

AN AMERICAN IN THE NOBELITY

It is a far cry from the classic to the modern novelist, but in any phase of literary work, Sinclair Lewis should be highly honored.

Why was he chosen as the winner of the most coveted literary prize? Why were such men as Eugene O'Neill and Robert Frost overlooked, and Sinclair Lewis awarded the Nobel Literary Prize of 1930? It is because Lewis writes from his soul and experience that his writings are so heartily accepted.

Moreover, his portrayal of American life is in accordance with what the Americans have made the Europeans believe. When European travelers come to America, they see the type of life which is portrayed by Lewis in his books, stories, and lectures.

Sinclair Lewis made our Main Street famous the world over, and "Babbitt" did for the city what "Main Street" did for the small town. He endeavored to portray truly life as it is daily led in America. He wrote of it because there was some inner force constantly urging him onward to the unwritten versions of social life.

It is because Lewis placed all his heart and soul in his works that they are so highly honored and so widely read.

Will they remain famous, become classics, and live through the ages? Sinclair Lewis hopes so, we all hope so, but only time will tell.

RUTH CHALMERS

Spare Ideas

Why is it that in this world of restrictions, we who call ourselves people of forethought ever permitted such a form of literature as the essay to become popular—or even tolerated?

Too much leeway is afforded, too much opportunity is offered to be subjected to literary torture, merely because someone had a spare idea which he wished to have expressed in written form. However far-fetched the idea may be, it must be accepted because it is an essay.

Coming from the French "essai," an attempt, it is merely an abbreviated form, meaning in reality an attempt to force something on people in written form which would not be even tolerated verbally.

It is positively dangerous to leave such a form of writing about, so that anyone may take advantage. Such a weapon in the hands of the inexperienced may prove fatal. Our favorite theories may be shot and killed by the pen of ridicule. Our fondest memories may be shattered and desecrated by the bomb of cold hard fact.

A man with an idea is unscrupulous. He takes singular pleasure in torturing the less fortunate among us not so blessed, by waving like a red cloth before infuriated eyes, his ideas.

There should be a law against the essay. One is protected against the thief and the murderer—why not against the essayist?

Trying to write humor for people who think they appreciate it, is a dreadful bore; but I suppose trying to read humor written by people who think they can write it is even more boresome, cause you can fool some of the people some of the time, and you can fool some of the people some of the time, but I'll be "gosh durned" if you can fool some of the people some of the time; but as the contributor to a weekly humor magazine said as he received his first check, "my cents of humor is improving."

To return to the subject—let's be serious. I've often wondered if people realized how humorous being serious is; perhaps this may be attributed to the fact that seriousness is such a foreign and ill-used trait in our modern constitutions. Constitutions—'fer heaven's sake,' if not for mine, who started us on the subject of history? History belongs to George Washington, Charles Lindberg, Clara Bow,

Dan Steible, and all those other celebrities who form the basis of current conversation. Never you mind folks, we'll blaze our own historic trail, and show 'em how to really make history.

WE wish to extend to the 1931 graduating class of Kenmore High School heartiest congratulations and best wishes for the future.

Dear Professor,

It was about two weeks ago that I began to notice that I alone was holding her affections. I would be good-looking if it wasn't for my face. I make myself by talking (I stutter a little) about myself. I have taken her to the show twice in the last two weeks. Do you think she wants me just for my money? How may I win her back?

Broken Hearted

Dear Broken Hearted,

Yes, she's after your money; she is working towards a breach-of-promise suit. The thing for you to do is to fool her by marrying her and then make her live on twenty-three cents a month. But first you must overcome your stuttering. You could practice talking with pebbles in your mouth; in your case I would advise using gall stones or grape-fruit.

WATCHING THE DICTATOR

is a decided advantage in taking dictation. See the young lady above? She is writing on the Stenotype.

THE STENOTYPE is used for taking dictation instead of writing in a notebook with a pencil. It is small, practically noiseless, prints English letters, writes a word at a stroke.

STENOTYPY is easier to learn, easier to write, easier to read, less tiring, makes you faster, makes you more accurate, makes you more efficient, than pencil shorthand. Graduates write 150 words a minute.

Field for Stenotypists: Court reporting, convention reporting, high-speed secretarial positions, technical dictation such as law, medicine, engineering, etc.

Business wants and gladly pays for the added efficiency which the Stenotype gives.

Come in for a demonstration and free trial lesson!

KENITORIAL Life To Come

Life, but heritage
To do with as we will,
Make or break but above all
To drink our hungry fill.

Our time has come to say farewell,
And looking back o'er the years
Emotions within us rise, which vary
From happiness to tears
It's nor so much what lies behind
Though memories are often sweet,
It's the years to come that lie before
And the tasks we've yet to meet.
The chance is ours. How we use it,
Time alone can tell.
But we'll do our best, and now must say,
Alma Mater, farewell.

Life, our heritage
To do with as we will,
Make or break but above all
To drink our hungry filly

FOREWORD

Land courtships along with daily efforts in the classroom. The events which make up our school days follow so fast one upon the other that we forget them almost as soon as they are over, however strong our desire to remember them may be. It is for this reason that we have tried to set down in somewhat orderly fashion the happenings of the past year, grouping them around a theme which constantly recurs in the literature of the past and of the present and which we feel symbolizes our unpredictable future—the sea and the ideas associated with it. A yearbook is fundamentally an aid to the student who wishes to recall the outstanding events or pleasant incidents of a school year. If this product of our humble efforts helps him to embark on a voyage to the land of memories, the staff will feel that it has reached port with a rich cargo.

DEDICATION

MISS DOROTHY K. VAN TINE, A.B.
UNIVERSITY OF BUFFALO

This book into which the Kenitorial staff has put its best efforts, we gratefully dedicate to Miss Dorothy K. Van Tine, Senior class adviser, who has so successfully guided the ship of 1932 through many a stormy sea. (With her as pilot we have greatly enjoyed the final lap of our cruise. For her good advice and for the generous gift of her time we thank her heartily, and as a small token of our appreciation, inscribe to her this log of our voyage.

ADMINISTRATION

Frank C. Densberger
Superintendent
Ph.B., Syracuse University
A.M., Columbia University

Superintendent Frank C. Densberger combines two qualities of a leader, an insight into human nature and an ability to search out the essential facts of a problem.

Throughout his long association with our school system, Mr. Densberger has sought to bring about a closer co-operation between teacher and pupil. He has held as a fundamental of education that scholastic, athletic, and social attainments should be combined to make the ideal student, and that the ability to succeed rests upon the strength to persevere.

A signal honor has been conferred upon Mr. Densberger this year by his election to the office of president of the Western Branch of the New York State Teachers' Association which has a membership of over 9000 educators.

Superintendent Densberger's hobbies are travel, the reading of biography, and the study of social science.

A keen observer of the times, Mr. Densberger feels that the phenomenal changes occurring throughout the world today will have an unprecedented effect upon the future progress of civilization.

Roy G. Freeman Principal

B.S., St. Lawrence University A.M., Columbia University

Rapidly passing out of existence is the idea that school life should be a mosaic of isolated pieces of subject matter disassociated with natural life situations. This opinion frequently expressed by Principal Freeman, and carried out by him in practice, has made Kenmore High School one of the leading schools of Western New York. Emphasizing always high standards of scholarship, Mr. Freeman also encourages students to participate in extra-curricular activities because he believes that out in the world people do not solve problems by using text books or by taking examinations but by the active co-ordination of several proficiencies which they have gained through doing many things.

In the seven years that Mr. Freeman has been captain of the Senior High School, the enrollment of students has more than doubled and the number of courses offered greatly increased. While coping with these many problems of enlargement, Mr. Freeman has still found time to take active interest in the welfare of every student to whom he is always the friendly "Doc."

RAYMOND S. FRAZIER

B.S., University of Buffalo

On the Senior ship one of the ablest first mates is Raymond S. Frazier.

A few years after his graduation from the University of Buffalo, he came to Kenmore High School as a teacher of commercial subjects. His ability recognized in a short time, he was asked to organize the Commercial Department and became its head. Later he was made a vice-principal of the Senior High School and treasurer of school activities funds. A man of keen business and executive ability, he has made a real place for himself in the school. In addition to his other duties, Mr. Frazier acts as business adviser to the Kenitorial.

CARL W. BAISCH
B.S., University of Buffalo
A.M., University of Buffalo

Carl W. Baisch, a vice-principal of Kenmore Senior High School, is one of the busiest men to be found in the village. In addition to being a vice-principal, Mr. Baisch has proved himself equally efficient as head of the Science Department, as coach of football, and as faculty manager of athletics.

As a counselor and friend, he has won the esteem of every student in Kenmore High School and is loved for his good sportsmanship and interest in student activities.

The Log of 1932

Let us look back to that morning in September, 1928, when we embarked upon our four-year voyage through high school. We came from all directions, some of us timidly eyeing our companions, others beginning bravely to assert ourselves and to cultivate the friendship of those who were destined to be our companions through the happy, eventful years of the trip.

While we were journeying as Freshmen, we elected Harold Janson class president. In that initial year we also had a picnic. Shall we ever forget our outing at Ellicott Creek when Principal Chase and Mr. Hague gallantly served us hot dogs? When our graduation from Junior High School came, our colors were flying proudly and we were beginning to make our class felt as a real force in Kenmore High School.

As we launched upon the second mile of our cruise, we did not feel so carefree as we had the year before. Sophomores must set worthy examples for Freshmen to follow. However, we took a little time from regular studies to distinguish ourselves in athletics.

Another September found us Juniors, eager for the activities of the year. Piloted by Miss Jones as adviser and by Loyd D. Clark, Kay Johnston, Fred Albright, and Betsy Brown as class officers, we were anxious to do great things. We were zealous in a magazine subscription campaign, and positively mad in our efforts to transform, under the skillful guidance of Muriel Fisher and her committee, the austere gym into a veritable rainbow garden. How we hated to bring that delightful evening and our Junior year to a close!

And at last we became Seniors with the acquisition of the dignity and honor which come only to those who successfully reach their last year with the voyage almost over.

What fun we had planning the Harvest Carnival with its gaily decorated booths and dancing in the cafeteria to the rhythmical beat of Art Leard's orchestra. Realizing the magnitude of the task which lay before us, we began early in the year making plans for a fitting memorial of our class, the Kenitorial, and under the patient supervision of Mrs. Chittenden with Lloyd A. Clarke and Frank R. Zingerle as its editors, we have put forth a record of that pleasant four-year voyage through high school.

The Student Council presided over by Howard Payne upheld the student interests of the school. In the spring we made our stage debut, presenting a three-act comedy, "The New Poor." This influx of Russian nobility, including the Grand Duke, Prince Vladimir and Princess Irina, proved very entertaining. Detective O'Farrel's "Aha" will never be forgotten.

The many members of the Senior Class who have played such important parts in upholding the reputation of the school in sports, basketball, football, and swimming are not to be forgotten. Although their names are not included in this history, they know that we appreciate all they have done.

Our voyage is now over and we have reached the end of one period of preparation for the great struggle of life. Commencement is here and we are about to part, but the Class of '32 will always preserve fond memories of dear old Kenmore.

Editor-in-Chief

George C. Roesser Art Editor In spite of unusual restrictions the members of the Kenitorial staffs have striven to make this year's Kenitorial one which may again attain the high standards set for it by preceding graduating classes. In selecting a nautical theme, we have attempted to symbolize our high school life, to give it meaning as a phase of our entire voyage of life. We shall not apologize for the book's shortcomings, for the zeal and enthusiasm which have gone into the making of it and which we hope to transfer to our readers, will more than offset its faults. We should like to express our great indebtedness to Mrs. Chittenden, head of the English Department, Vice-Principal Frazier, head of the Commercial Department, and Miss Underwood of the Art Department who have acted as advisers.

The Rostrum

Each school year has brought greater talent and more brilliant accomplishments to the Rostrum. This year, again, it has been awarded first prize as the best high school publication of its kind in Eastern United States. We are proud of what this paper has achieved under its present staffs. We are proud, too, that it has realized so well its purpose of producing outstanding literary material, excellent reviews of athletic and other school activities, and entertaining news from the various phases of our school life. We, as the 1932 graduating class, feel that we can pass it to next year's class without regretting a decline in its achievements. Mrs. Chittenden, head of the English Department, is the adviser of this undertaking.

ADDITIONAL MEMBERS

E. Spadinger, J. Adamson, J. Stark, P. Duchscherer

This year, perhaps more than in any other, we are indebted to the members of the Student Council for their generous contribution of time and effort in making this the most profitable year of all. It can be truly said that never before has the understanding between faculty and student body been deeper, the judgment of the student body more wisely directed, or school spirit stronger. In spite of the hardships and hindrances resulting from an especially difficult year, the Student Council has arranged frequent entertaining assemblies for the pleasure of the students. We join in expressing sincere thanks also to Principal R. G. Freeman for his sympathy in hearing suggestions and to Miss Van Tine, Senior Class adviser, for her help in directing the Senior Class.

Frederica Schauroth Valedictorian

Honor Club

The third year of the Honor Club has been rewarded with increased membership and greatly stimulated interest in scholarship. An outstanding event of the year was the scholarship assembly at which all those who had earned grades of ninety per cent or above were honored with addresses from the faculty. The Honor Club itself is restricted to Seniors attaining averages of eighty-five per cent or above. The organization is distinctive in the absence of officers or faculty advisers. This graduating class is indeed proud to announce a membership of forty-six Seniors in this organization. Class honors this year go to Frederica Schauroth, who is valedictorian, and to George Harrington, who has been chosen salutatorian.

Latin Club

The remarkable success which has attended the efforts of Miss Van Tine in organizing the Latin Club is evidence of the enthusiasm which the club has aroused in classical life and customs. Monthly business and social meetings are held alternately. Programs include discussions, singing of Latin songs, and the playing of Latin games. All students of the third and fourth years of Latin are eligible for membership.

Entre Nous

An entirely new French Club with a new name, Entre Nous, and with new vim and vigor has been organized by Miss Gendreau. We all entertain the hope that success may attend her efforts. The program, at least, holds promise of great attractiveness. Sketches in French, French songs, and general good times await the members, and to add to the interest and efficiency of our French speaking colleagues, a fine is imposed on all who lapse into the native tongue. Meetings under Miss Gendreau's helpful supervision are held monthly.

Deutsche Verein

Another school year has brought added recognition to the Kenmore Deutsche Verein as one of the most profitable, as well as most interesting, of our organizations. Its members include those students who are studying German and who have shown an interest in German life and customs. Aside from stimulating interest in these directions, the Verein also seeks to create appreciation of German literature, and has included in its activities many social functions. It is greatly indebted to Mrs. Williams for her helpful leadership.

Science Club

In its two years of existence the Science Club has succeeded in providing a novel combination of entertainment and instruction. Programs this year have included demonstrations and illustrated talks on the making of cellophane and nitro-cellulose products, crime detection and taking of finger prints, visible and invisible light. Among the extensive trips that have been planned was a visit to the Curtiss Aeroplane Factory which proved of interest and value to members. Mr. Scouten and the officers of the club have earned the highest commendation in making this venture so successful.

Art Round Table

Another year brings pleasant recollections of numerous gay activities arranged by the A. R. T. girls. By combining such utilitarian schemes as selling calendars with card parties and dances, the members have more than shown why the organization has existed for five consecutive years. Nor should we forget to mention how valuable have been the reports concerning lives of modern artists which have distinguished its monthly meetings. The fact that this organization has already lived for so many years is evidence of the impetus given it by its faculty adviser, Miss Underwood.

Girls' Literary Club

As a literary club, more representative in nature, more devoted to the study of existing literature than the creation of its own, the Girls' Literary Club has completed a remarkably profitable year. This society is composed of girls in the third and fourth years of English. Programs this year have included many interesting sketches, talks by outside speakers. Of real value were the discussions regarding the selection of vocations. The annual banquet was, as usual, the culminating event of the season. Special credit is due Miss Esther Hepinstall for her faithfulness and enthusiasm in continuing the activities of this organization.

Alpha Phi Lambda

Much of the literary talent displayed in our various school publications owes its origin to Alpha Phi Lambda, one of our most progressive literary organizations whose aim it is to couple creative writing with literary appreciation and critique. Since membership in this society demands the contribution of a work of real merit, Alpha Phi Lambda fulfills the task of developing the most promising writers of the school. Under the helpful guidance of Miss Elizabeth Chittenden, this society has completed its second year with remarkable accomplishment.

Dramatic Club

The Dramatic Club has greatly expanded since regular courses in dramatics have been offered as a part of the school curriculum. Its members include many enthusiastic students from dramatic classes as well as those who have taken part in school plays. Every month there is a meeting at which talks on drama, reviews of plays, and outside speakers provide entertainment and instruction to those present. To this organization the student body owes not a few of the year's best assemblies. Miss Evans is the competent leader of the undertaking.

National Thespian Society

The Dramatic Club also includes members of Troupe 108 of the National Thespians, an honorary dramatic society which requires for its membership a well-acted major role in a three-act play or several roles in one-act plays. Meetings of the Thespians are held monthly. At these times short sketches or readings are presented by the members and are constructively criticized by both students and adviser. Among the more recently organized societies is the Secretarial Club, composed of Seniors, High Juniors, and Post Graduates who have completed required studies in typewriting and shorthand, and who are interested in the possibilities which secretarial work has to offer. Under the friendly guidance of Miss Hunt and Miss Melican the organization has acquired, in its first year, a representative membership, which promises not only to promote social contact among business students, but to further interest in secretarial training.

Senior Hi-Y Club

The Senior Hi-Y is an organization of active, wide-awake young men in the Junior and Senior Classes of high school, who have made it their goal "to create, maintain, and extend high standards of Christian character throughout the school and community." Discussions on the selection of a vocation, the proper attitude of older boys toward the younger, the qualifications of good leaders, healthy relationships and friendships between boys and girls, as well as between boys, have added greatly to the value of the meetings which are held weekly under the able leadership of William G. Braunton, head of the Mathematics Department.

Track

Last year's squad enjoyed one of the most successful seasons ever experienced by a track team at Kenmore High School. For winning every official meet except the state zone meet in which the team participated, they deserve much praise.

In their first meet at Nichols, which was a practice meet, the Kenmore team showed many promising performers, taking many places. In their first official meet at Lockport, the Kenmore boys walked off with the cup with comparative ease, scoring forty points. Lockport was second with twenty-four and one half points, and Batavia and North Tonawanda finished third and fourth respectively. The sectional meet, which was held at the Kenmore stadium, was also won by Kenmore's crack team. In this meet the boys were furnished some real opposition by the Batavia team, but the latter could not quite compete with the wonderful work of our team, and, as a result, another cup was added to the trophy case.

In the last meet of the season, which was the colorful, large Erie County meet, our team again was victorious. They won in both the Senior and Junior boys divisions, thus annexing the cups easily, as well as the county title.

The relay team was especially effective this year, winning in almost every meet. They also annexed two cups in pre-season indoor running and placed third in the Courier-Express meet.

Faculty Manager Baisch presented the following members of the squad with letters: C. Kidd, G. Engel, G. Russell, R. Jackson, R. Little, D. Swartz, D. Bliss, N. Thomas, H. Duchscherer, G. Smith, F. Considering the few veterans that returned this year, plus the fact that baseball is still a comparatively new sport at Kenmore High, the baseball season was a success.

The team lost two out of three of its pre-season games, losing to Tonawanda and Bennett High, but trouncing Nichols. During the league schedule the team was beaten by a veteran team from St. Joe's, and an unusual pitching performance helped North Tonawanda to beat it. The Lockport and Trott games were close, victory being snatched from the team's hands in each game. The boys showed they still had fighting spirit by beating Tonawanda near the close of the season. This victory was featured by the hitting of youthful Wally Carpenter and the superb pitching of Doug

The feature of the whole team was the good playing of some of the youthful contestants. Always ready to play their best, they proved to be a valuable asset to the team.

One of the outstanding features of the year was the consistent playing of Captain Clarence Marlin and the veteran Billy Wood. Other lettermen were B. Gray, F. Wiedeman, A. Vathy, D. Basore, F. Albright, E. Hopps and W. Snyder. George Bury was manager assisted by Kurt Sealander and Bert Hayes.

Although losing three out of four matches played, the Kenmore High School Tennis team enjoyed a most successful season. Led by Captain Joe Stubbs, number one singles ace, the team gained a third place in the Letchworth Cup series. The veteran Niagara Falls team captured the title for the third straight year, thus annexing permanent possession of the Letchworth Cup.

Captain Stubbs, beaten only in the state singles championship finals by a veteran of the nets, was the outstanding performer on the team, winning every other match he played. Chris Greutker, winning all four of his matches, proved a valuable asset to the team. J. Stubbs and C. Greutker were ably assisted by the fine playing of C. Skinner and F. George in the singles and F. Byrn, D. Steible, J. Jeffreys, F. Marshall, and E. Beecher in the doubles. J. Jackson, J. Little and R. Brunton completed the squad.

In the three matches that the team lost, only one point separated them from victory, the outcome depending on the last singles match. The DeVeaux match, the only victory of the year for the team, was won easily by a score of 4·1. Lettermen were Captain Stubbs, C. Greutker, F. George, C. Skinner, E. Beecher, F. Byrn, D. Steible, F. Marshall, and J. Jeffreys. Cranston Covell was manager.

Although losing three out of eight games played, the Blue and White squad presented a very formidable team. Two of the losing games were lost by very scant margins, while in the other game, the team was defeated by a superior opponent.

The squad opened the season by winning four straight games, downing Depew, Le Roy, Nichols, and Lockport easily. After losing a tough game to Tonawanda, the boys came back the following week to gain its most impressive victory of the season, defeating the previously unbeaten U. of B. Frosh team 18-0. They lost the next game to a superior North Tonawanda team and again the following week to the Lancaster eleven, whose goal-line was not crossed during the entire season. Although losing these last two games, the team finished its difficult schedule fighting hard and completed a very successful season.

Coach Carl Baisch, assisted by Albert Kamiensky and Andreas Schultz, supplied knowledge and able training to the squad, while Damon Averill was manager, assisted by Lewis Faux and William Conn.

Although handicapped all the season by injuries, and with a green and inexperienced squad, Kenmore High's Basketball team had a highly successful season, winning seven games out of a schedule of thirteen, and winding up in a tie for third place in the R. P. I. League. Lockport, with an experienced outfit, finally broke the Kenmore-Niagara Falls monopoly and won the league championship.

After opening the season with a win over Lancaster, inexperience told and Hutchinson beat us by a score of 23-14. The team improved greatly the following week, although losing a heartbreaking two-point decision to Fosdick-Masten, Buffalo champions. After the team had won the first two league games of the season over North Tonawanda and the Falls, the hard luck began. At crucial points during the rest of the season, J. Stubbs, K. Podger, and J. Jackson were either out of the line-up completely or handicapped seriously by injuries, and the team lost important games. Despite injuries, inexperience, and hard luck, however, the team always fought hard. Jimmie Jackson was the leading scorer of the team for the season with 94 points.

The success of a basketball team hinges on team play and co-operation. As team play can come only from practice, the value of the reserves is immediately seen. But this year the boys have done more than afford practice for the Varsity; they have also established an enviable record for themselves, winning many of their games in one of the most successful seasons any Kenmore reserve team has ever had. It is this team that is going to determine the make-up of next year's Varsity, and if spirit and ability are any indication, they will all be on it. The whole team deserve commendation, both for their record and for the invaluable practice they have afforded for the first team. Many of these boys were so capable that they had opportunity to play in the big games at different intervals. They also lived up to their reputation by playing real heads-up basketball.

SECTIONALS Tonawanda 43, Kenmore 33, North Tonawanda 23

Coach Pohl's Swimming team closed its greatest season with six victories and four defeats. In addition to this the team placed second in the sectionals. In that meet three men took first places, therefore becoming sectional champions for their events. They were awarded medals for their achievements.

When the season opened, twenty-nine candidates including seven lettermen, reported for practice. From this group the team was selected. In the first meets Kenmore did exceptionally well against Buffalo schools, whose swimming teams are always strong.

J. Doane and P. Shryer led the scorers with 57 points each, while Taylor was next with 45. Other leaders in the scoring column were W. Moody, F. Schneider, J. Bogner, J. Bowling, J. Fredricks, A. White and R. Densberger.

With nearly all the men back for next season Kenmore should produce another winning combination. This is so because most of the boys were new at the sport this year, but they will be more experienced next year.

Charles S. Pohl was coach, Rudolph Brown, manager, and Julius Kendall, assistant manager. Paul Shryer and William Moody were co-captains of the 1931-32 squad.

Senior Girls' Basketball Teams

More girls came out for basketball this year than ever before. From the two hundred that answered Miss Kauffman's enthusiastic call, twenty teams were organized, representing the Senior, Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman classes.

After many thrilling Friday afternoon games, the final tie-off for the championship was played between Peggy Cushing's Senior team and Jeanette Alling's Sophomore team. The Seniors, victorious became the possessors of individual '32's.

torious, became the possessors of individual '32's.

The most coveted award is the varsity "K." Because of the number in the sport this year, twenty-three were given to those displaying outstanding qualities in their playing.

The season closed with a banquet in March which was a gala affair.

Referees were presented with silver "K's," timekeepers, with silver basketballs, and the following girls received their letters:

Band

Under the guidance of Carl W. Hann, music director, the band has grown not only in numbers but also in talent and musical ability. Starting with about thirty-five old members and adding a number of new ones, the leader has developed a group of which the school can be proud.

Resplendent in blue uniforms, the band has been a feature at the athletic contests and other school activities. It has played at the football and basketball games and has put on several assemblies for the Senior High School. The first of these was on Armistice Day at which time several appropriate selections were rendered. Following the death of Lieutenant-Commander John Philip Sousa, the band played in his memory several of his famous marches. A third assembly was put on just before the Easter vacation at which time a full concert was given. The band is to be congratulated on the way it played on all these occasions.

Mr. Hann has put a great deal of work into the activity and eventually hopes to have a concert band. The members practice every sixth period and work hard to perfect their work. It has been arranged for the band to play over the radio before the year ends, an event to which they are looking forward eagerly.

Constantly growing interest in band music assures larger membership in the organization and more diversified activities on its part next year.

Orchestra

The orchestra, reorganized this year under the direction of Carl W. Hann, started with a small nucleus to which additions have been made until it now contains twenty-nine members. Working and studying with Mr. Hann every morning, they have become an orchestra able to compete with any other high school musical organization.

The objectives are to gain appreciation of good music and to learn the fundamentals of it. The orchestra has played for all dramatic plays and assemblies and has of itself given several concerts. It has also appeared at assemblies in the various elementary schools of the district, thus giving instruction concerning the various instruments, the differences in them, and how each is used in the orchestra.

The only requirement for membership is playing knowledge of the instrument chosen. At the end of the year Regents Credits will be given. One of the many advantages of being in the orchestra is that it trains the students to play under leadership and in synchronization with other instruments.

The orchestra at present is equipped with almost every instrument that is found in a symphony orchestra.

Mr. Russell Carter, State Inspector of Music, has highly commended the work done this year. The students are also deeply appreciative of the efforts of this group who have contributed so generously to their enjoyment at assemblies and on other occasions. Mr. Hann deserves commendation for his accomplishments in his first year in Kenmore High School.

Senior Play

"THE NEW POOR"

One of the crowning events of the year was the presentation of the Senior play, "The New Poor," on March 9, 1932, directed by Miss Gladys Evans.

"The New Poor" is a farce in three acts, depicting a group of Russian royalty who took positions as servants in the home of the wealthy Welbys. Although the plot was quite obvious, it was cleverly worked out and the audience showed its appreciation of the predicaments of the cast.

Picture if you can Roger Cook in a pointed beard, taking the butler's part as the Grand Duke, or John Buckley, in a long, bright red footman's coat playing Count Ivan, or Earl Robinson wearing a moustache and a chauffeur's cap, taking the part of Prince Vladimir. Mrs. Welby, the society climber, was successfully played by Hazel Hornung. Alice Welby and her two sisters, Betty and Constance, played by Lucille Hirschman, Virginia Glass, and Virginia Mackay respectively, enchanted the audience with their simplicity and charm.

The Welby brother, Amos, was admirably impersonated by Eugene Fairfield who thoroughly aroused the sympathy of the audience in his attempt to win Princess Irina, the charming housemaid, who, unmasked, proved to be Grace Bartrip. Frederica Schauroth in the role of Mary Maudsley satisfied the audience wholly by her attempts to solve the mystery, but it was Kirk O'Farrell, the detective, alias Robert Middleton, who finally trapped Arthur Jennings, alias Mr. Gutteridge, the villain, and cleared up many obscure points.

The actors set a high standard for the Seniors of next year to attain.

The Brat

Perhaps the cleverest and best play ever presented by members of the Kenmore High School Dramatic Club was "The Brat," a very human and appealing love story, brought vividly to life by the splendid acting of the cast which was headed by Beata Koerbel who portrayed, in her own vivid manner, the heroine of the story, the Brat. She was ably supported by the excellent and consistent acting of Keith Morgan, who played the part of the well-to-do author, MacMillan, who took professional interest in a deserted little waif that he might use her as the heroine of a book which he was writing. The fact that his subject, the Brat, believed him really in love with her and finally discovered that he was only using her to find out her reaction, makes a very interesting plot. George Roesser acted the part of the younger ne'er-do-well brother, really in love with the Brat; Lucille Hirschman and Hazel Hornung were the women in love with Mac. Every one of the characters had opportunity to display dramatic ability and the results were appealing. Miss Gladys Evans, dramatic instructor, directed the play.

Employing entirely new and unseasoned material, W. H. Braunton, debate coach, produced from the debate applicants of 1932 one of the most successful teams Kenmore has ever had. Having lost only three out of ten encounters, he has just reason to be proud of his efforts since the negative team succeeded in defeating Hornell High School which ranks sixth in the United States in forensic activity. The schools debated were Lockport, North Tonawanda, Niagara Falls, Hornell, and Jamestown. Many of the students found for the first time how interesting debate really is. The organization was divided into two teams, the negative and the affirmative, with one remaining at home while the other traveled.

The entire student body was able to hear the affirmative team defeat the North Tonawanda negative when an assembly was devoted to this activity early in March. The speeches at this time were enjoyed by both the students and the faculty who were greatly interested in the topic under discussion. The teams were fortunate in being able to debate the same question throughout the season: "Resolved that the several states should enact legislation providing compulsory unemployment insurance."

The negative team consisted of Frederica Schauroth, Richard Spitzer, Clifford Bowman, and Webster Muck, alternate. The affirmative was made up of Jack Adamson, Audrey Stark, Thomas Bendelow, and Addison Hill, alternate.

Intimate Glimpses of School Life

Among the unusually good assemblies arranged this year have been Tumbling Stunts, "Ye Old District Skewl," singing by Jack and Loretta Clemons, Folk Songs, Mr. Densberger's European reminiscences, music by Sam Mineo and Jules Pillar, Honor Club, Pep, and Song assemblies.

It is to Howard Payne, President of the Student Council, that we owe thanks for fifteen delightful minutes of singing popular songs on Wednesday mornings. He has also been in charge of the student dancing, which has been enjoyed by most of us Tuesday afternoons. A better president, 'twill be hard to find.

Now it is our turn to give a rousing cheer for those boys who have inspired the student body with pep and enthusiasm throughout the year. Rah! Rah! Pannings, Roesser, Smith.

A fine person whom we all know and like is "Pop" Lung, who is essentially part of our everyday school life. We can't think of any one who does his work more conscientiously. Having earned a B.S. and an A.B. degree at Valparaiso and Indiana Universities respectively, he first taught in a country school, then became principal of a high school, then superintendent of town and city schools. Mr. Lung has taught not only in New York State but in Indiana, Oklahoma, and Illinois.

The library may justly be called the heart of the school. Not only because of its carefully selected collection of books is it frequented by students in large numbers, but also by reason of its cultural and restful atmosphere. These rooms have been especially attractive this year owing to the addition of some unusual pictures presenting scenes of interest and famous characters in history and fiction. The librarians, Mrs. Peck and Miss Flaherty, give intelligent and willing service.
